RABBI CHAPMAN'S CHRONICLES

Rabbi Chapman

At the height of the Civil Rights Movement, Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. made a call to Northern religious leaders, inviting them to join his efforts to secure justice for African Americans. On March 21, 1965, Rabbi Abraham Joshua Heschel, then a professor at JTS, heeded the call, arriving in Selma, Alabama, to march for voter access. It was after this march that Heschel famously commented that he felt his "legs were praying."

Other rabbis and Jewish leaders also participated in the Selma march and other aspects of the Civil Rights Movement. A more local figure, Rabbi William Frankel, a Holocaust survivor, came to Selma from Wilmette, where he was then the rabbi of Beth Hillel.

Upon his return he sounded a note of caution: "How will we [in Illinois] react when the battleground will not be in distant Alabama but in our own backyard, even in the suburbs of Chicago?" In other words, racism, bigotry, and hatred are not only found south of the Mason-Dixon Line. Our own communities also suffer from far too much injustice and division.

In March, a group of Beth Shalom members traveled together on a Civil Rights Journey to see some of these sites firsthand. We do take Rabbi Frankel's words to heart: We did not need to travel 700 miles south to find examples of the effects of slavery and segregation. Chicago was not immune then, nor is it immune now. And yet, there is no substitute for standing on the hallowed ground where some of the fiercest battles for justice were fought: the infamous Edmund Pettus Bridge in Selma; the Montgomery intersection where Rosa Parks boarded a city bus; the scarred façade of the 16th Street Baptist Church in Birmingham, where four little girls were killed in a KKK bombing. There is also no substitute for the memorials, museums, and first-hand accounts we experienced, which exist only in the south.

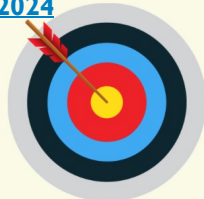

That being said, our travels were fruitless if they do not translate into activism and change here at home. How can we at Beth Shalom also "pray with our feet"? One idea: Join us at the Buffalo Grove Pride Parade on Sunday, June 2! If you have other ideas, let's work on them together!

FROM THE CONGREGATION PRESIDENT

Bob Spector

Shalom Chaverim,

As our April showers have turned to May flowers, I hope you are enjoying our spring-time weather and planning opportunities to spend quality time with your family and friends. If you read the April bulletin or noticed the posting of the 2024-2025 Board of Trustees slate on the office window, you will have noticed there will be several new Board members and changes in our Executive Committee. On May 20th, at the Annual Meeting, the congregation will vote on the 2024-2025 slate (and our budget). Please join us to learn about how your dues and generous donations are being utilized in making CBS such a vibrant community and to learn about how your lay leaders and staff tirelessly work on your behalf.

These days I am experiencing a myriad of emotions, many related to my role as your President coming to an end, the premature birth of my first grandchild (he is now doing great), the loss of my beloved Rabbi, and most recently a soulful journey through the South as part of our Civil Rights Journey/Mission. I am reminded of a poem called The Guest House written by Jelaluddin Rumi that helps keep me steady during times of significant turmoil:

This being human is a guest house. Every morning a new arrival.
A joy, a depression, a meanness, some momentary awareness comes as an unexpected visitor.
Welcome and entertain them all!
Even if they're a crowd of sorrows, who violently sweep your house empty of its furniture, still, treat each guest honorably.
He may be clearing you out for some new delight.
The dark thought, the shame, the malice, meet them at the door laughing, and invite them in.
Be grateful for whoever comes, because each has been sent as a guide from beyond.

There are many emotions we welcome as guests into our home, while others are not as comfortably welcomed. We learn over our lifetimes that we cannot control or choose which guests come to visit. The best we can do sometimes is endure these visits and trust that as guests their visits are temporary. I liken my less pleasant visitors to my experiences of playing in the ocean. When I see a giant wave that is about to slam against me, I relax my body rather than try to dig in and endure a force that I know is much greater than me. By relaxing my body, I am better able to accept the inevitable which allows the force of the wave to pass through me. Many of my current guests- sadness, grief, loss, fear, anger, resentment, and anxiety to name a few must be just as welcomed into my home as my other guests- pride, joy, relief, excitement, and love. My hope, of course, is that the former guests are shorter term visitors, but it is from those visitors I learn the most about myself and motivate me to be the best I can be.

Being your President the past three years has been such a privileged and wonderful journey, sometimes a bit bumpy but always gratifying. As we continue to move forward together as a community, I wish for all of you the strength to manage the guests in your homes just as we always welcome guests into our CBS home.

Next month, I will be introducing you to our next CBS President, Sue Lampert. I am so confident that under her leadership, her passion, drive, and with the support of a strong Board of Trustees, she will make us one of the strongest Conservative synagogues in the country.

L'Shalom,

Bob

CANTOR'S NOTES

Cantor Stoehr

'Never Again is Now' has been a well utilized phrase since the attack on Israel on October 7th. These words, reflecting upon the Holocaust, were being used due to the rampant antisemitism which was the propellant of the attack, and that led to the unearthing of latent antisemitism in the US and around the globe. Communities have been anxiously counting the days since hostages had their lives stolen, literally and figuratively.

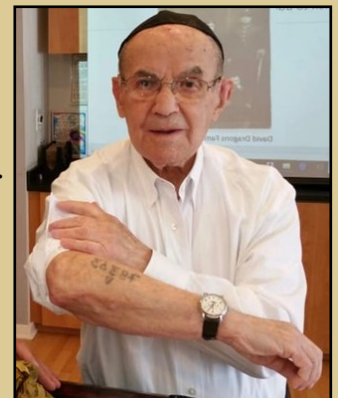

Our annual Yom HaShoah Commemoration will take place on Sunday, May 5th at 6:30 p.m. at Beth Shalom. If our cries of Never Again are to mean anything, we must gather and stand up. Being together will allow us to remember the past (and survivors) as well as creating a stance of unity yet continuing to bring attention to the horrid attacks being unleashed on our people today. We must be sure to pay homage to those who lost their lives, literally and figuratively, during the Shoah in Eastern Europe. This year it would be most appropriate to have a full house in attendance.

Last year a beloved member of CBS, David Dragon, passed on at the age of 99, after having survived the camps of Auschwitz- Birkenau. In Auschwitz he was a brick layer and at Birkenau he was tasked with building a crematorium.

On January 20, 1945, David was sent on a Death March from Auschwitz-Birkenau to Dachau. He was liberated by the United States forces in April 1945.

Prior to his passing, David left a Legacy gift to Beth Shalom. He directed his son, Dr. Leon Dragon, to establish a Yom HaShoah musical event annually to remind this, and future generations, about the atrocities which took place, and to pledge, 'Never Again.' (Some of the funds are available for educational purposes in the Religious School as well). I promise that the time we spend together that evening will be special.

Please bring your family, your neighbors and anyone else who is fighting for the rights of Jewish survival.

AM YISRAEL CHAI

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL

Stacy Ybarra

Dear CBS Families,

What an interesting school year we have had!

- We celebrated Tashlich and Sukkot as a school.
- Our Kindergarten through 5th grade led Shabbat services and hosted dinners.
- Our 6th grade led the Torah Service on a Shabbat morning in February.
- We participated in the CBS Scholar-in-Residence weekend and Good Deeds Day.
- We raised money towards an ambulance for Magen David Adom, trees in Israel through JNF and sent pounds of food to the Northfield Township Food Bank. Since October 7th we tied blue and yellow ribbons around our trees, had many discussions about Israel and have prayed for the safe return of the hostages. This is all in addition to our study of six content areas of Hebrew, T'filah, Torah/History, Holidays/Life Cycle, Israel and Values.

Our last Sunday is May 5th and our last Tuesday is May 7th. We are already working on exciting programs and projects for the next school year. Save-the-date for our Meet-the-Teacher Ice Cream Social Sunday, August 25th!

B'Shalom,
Stacy Ybarra

Harry S. Truman met his responsibilities and never turned his back on the uphill challenges of life. Truman was a Missouri farmer, revered Captain of Battery D, a failed haberdasher, presiding Judge of Missouri's Jackson County, a two term U.S. Senator, and a Vice President of the United States for only 82 days. Then suddenly, on the death of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Truman was thrust into office to become our 33rd President of the United States.

On the day after Truman took office he stated these words, “Boys, if you ever pray, pray for me now. I don't know if you fellows ever had a load of hay fall on you, but when they told me yesterday what had happened, I felt like the moon, the stars, and all the planets had fallen on me.”

Historian, Jim Gibbons*, will present the life of the Missouri farmer, Harry S. Truman, who became our 33rd President of the United States. Determination and persistence were the keys to Truman's success. This includes the gaining of his wife's hand in marriage, the dropping of the Atomic Bomb, the firing of General Douglas McArthur, and the “whistle-stop, give 'em hell speech campaign.” When all the press, the pollsters, and even his mother-in-law felt that he had no chance, Truman overcame all odds to achieve the presidency in his own right. Gibbons will show that even though unanimously the politicians, the press, and the pollsters acclaimed Thomas E. Dewey was the sure presidential winner, the voters were wild about Harry!

SISTERHOOD

Lani Schrank

The Sisterhood Mixing Bowl

Judaism is ripe with examples of oral traditions- stories, laws, and rituals being handed down from generation to generation. We come to understand our collective history through stories, often told to us by parents, grandparents, and teachers. During our Passover seders a few weeks ago, the Haggadah says we should see ourselves as if we had been liberated from Egypt (lir'ot et atzmo), reinforcing the fusion of past and present. Learning from past generations is so critical to who we are as a Jewish community and how we live our Judaism every day.

Yet, when I think about my every day- outside of my Jewish community- I do not have many opportunities to interact with older generations. I work with mostly people my own age. Many of my friends are people with whom I went to college or summer camp. My social network is generational homogenous. However, being a part of the CBS Sisterhood community brings together women of all different ages, in various life stages, and of different levels of leadership experience. This multigenerational network has provided all of us a chance to learn and grow from each other in rich meaningful ways.

Back in March, our Programming VP Jenny Schneider, along with Talia Mikhelson and Amy LeVine, organized an amazing event- Out of This World Hamantaschen Baking. For this event, we invited the women of CBS Sisterhood to bring friends and family members of all ages to come make hamantaschen together as a community. As a fun twist, we offered all sorts of different filling flavors like passionfruit, cheesecake, and smores.

Seeing the intergenerational presence at this event was incredible! Parents, grandparents, young children, and teens all enjoyed rolling the dough and choosing fillings- from the traditional to the unique! It was a wonderful opportunity to come together as a community of all ages, working together on this time-honored tradition. While it seemed that prune and poppy seed attracted a particularly loyal group of bakers, and the age range for participants who wanted to make funfetti hamantaschen with neon blue frosting and rainbow sprinkles was perhaps limited to the elementary school set, everyone had a great time being together, learning, laughing, and snacking on chocolate chips.

For me, this was a great reminder of the value of intergenerational programs, and how Jewish ritual easily enables these types of experiences. Our holidays, values, and practices have so many ways to find personal meaning and community engagement for Jews of all ages, and CBS Sisterhood is happy to mix the ingredients to enable intergenerational programs- physically and metaphorically!

MEN'S CLUB

Bob Goldwin

Well, here we are in May. Another month has come and gone, and what a spectacular month it was. Spectacular, but a bit more relaxing than February and March. We are coming to the end of a fantastic year of programming. The Men's Club has had a ball providing tasty food at a variety of functions, including Yom Beth Shalom, Steaks in the Sukkah, our many breakfasts, and the Purim Carnival. We enjoyed putting on what we believe was an amazing Men's Club Shabbat with a phenomenal meat Kiddush in March, and not much could be more important than packing up and sending out the Yellow Candles to be used in observance of Yom HaShoah in early May. Our next big event will be the annual Men's Club Golf Outing, which will be held on Thursday, June 20, 2024. It promises to be a day of fun, laughter, and possibly good golf. All are welcome for the full day or you can also have your spouse or significant other join us for just the dinner at CBS following golf, if they don't play.

This month in our continuing series of Past President interviews, I would like to introduce you all to Harvey Redfern. Harvey is a proud Chicago native. He grew up in Chicago attending Congregation KINS from 1954-1971. During his time at KINS he was president of the Bar Mitzvah Club, and he created a bowling league. If this was not enough, he was the Youth Director in 1971. Harvey is a proud graduate of both Mather High School and DePaul University. After a couple different Synagogue stops, Harvey and his wife Pam joined Congregation Beth Shalom when they were married in 1995. Men's Club member Michael Greenberg encouraged Harvey to join and become active in the Men's Club in 2005. His first position on the Executive Board was that of House VP of Special Events. From there he moved on to Executive VP under President Brad Shaps and finally onto being Men's Club President from 2011-2013. During his presidency, Harvey was extremely proud that there were a number of future Presidents on the board who provided and would continue to provide great service to the club for years to come. Harvey never forgot a sad occasion during his term as president. During his two years, his Executive Vice President Alan Medansky (of blessed memory) passed away. It was a sad time for Harvey and the club, but he gives a lot of credit to the Past Presidents who stepped in to help and form a plan for the future. Along with being very active at CBS (and every synagogue he has been a member) Harvey is a very dedicated and active member of the FJMC. Within the FJMC Harvey has served as Midwest Region Treasurer (2013-2017), Executive VP of the Midwest Region (2017-2019) and the Midwest Region President (2019-2021). Serving as president of the region is always a tough task but doing it during the Covid-19 pandemic added an extra challenge. Many traditional activities and events were either canceled or moved to virtual settings. Harvey is extremely proud that the Midwest Region was voted the Outstanding Region at the 2021 Virtual Convention (repeated at the 2023 in-person Philadelphia Convention). Harvey has attended seven FJMC conventions!!

Harvey is very proud of his three children Ken, Charles (Sharon), and Ariel. Harvey has two grandchildren, Elana and Jack, who were active in USY and are now both in college. Harvey, a CPA for more than 50 years, spends a great deal of time at the synagogue or FJMC functions, but when he is not busy at CBS or the region, he can often be found rooting on his beloved LA Dodgers. He is a lifelong Dodgers fan, following in the footsteps of his father who was a fan of the Brooklyn Dodgers, dating back to the days of the legendary Jackie Robinson.

Tracy Safron Suggests

On Her Own is a fascinating novel by Israeli author Lihi Lapid. Lapid, a columnist and an activist, is the wife of Yair Lapid, the former prime minister of Israel.

The story begins when Nina, a beautiful and smart 18-year-old, wakes up in the stairwell adjacent to a Tel Aviv apartment. Her only possession is the torn mini dress that she is wearing. Nina remembers that she witnessed a murder and jumped out of a car. Nina is involved with Johnny, a married crime boss. Nina is discovered by Carmela, a confused older widow who thinks Nina is her young granddaughter, Dana. Carmela's two sons have left her. One is a fallen IDF soldier. Her other son, Itamar, moved to America "for a year at most," but has been gone for six. Itamar's daughter Dana was Carmela's happy pill. The family rarely visits and Itamar calls weekly and deludes himself into believing his mother is fine. Carmela brings Nina into her apartment and the situation is a positive one for both women. Nina becomes Carmela's caregiver although Carmela continues to call her Dana and Nina calls Carmela Grandma. Nina lives in fear of being discovered by Johnny or Itamar.

Nina's mother, Irina, is a Russian immigrant who raised Nina alone and worked hard to provide for her. Irina is frantic because she cannot reach Nina and the police offer little help. Complicating matters is that Nina recently ran away from home to be with Johnny and to escape Irina's wrath. Johnny is also looking for Nina and he confronts Irina and steals Irina's phone. As Lapid said in an interview On Her Own is a story of "what our kids owe us, or what it means to be a good adult kid". Lapid's writing is captivating, and the novel is filled with relatable situations and thought-provoking themes. Reading and discussing this book about loneliness would be a great way to bring people together.

WE ARE RESCUING CRAYONS!

May 1 – 20, 2024

Crayons will go to SCARCE, a 501(c3) organization which will recycle your crayons.

All intact crayons will be distributed to teachers, while any broken ones SCARCE will melt and transform into Super Crayons! These liquefied crayons will then be poured into various shaped molds to create larger crayons. These specialized crayons will be provided to teachers, occupational therapists, and non-profit professionals dedicated to supporting children with special needs.

Crayons will be collected in containers on the Social Action cabinet by the coat room.

Alex (Dr. Lana) Goldman on the passing of his mother, Inna Goldman.

To the Congregation Beth Shalom Community:

We wish to express our deepest gratitude for the outpouring of love and support, the letters, emails, phone calls, the generous contributions, the stories you shared, and most importantly, the hugs (Carl's favorite!)

Your kindness and compassion have been a source of comfort to our entire family during these early days of mourning. You honor Carl's memory in how you have cared for us.

The Wolkin Family

BIMA FLOWER FUND

Thank you to everyone for the Purim Basket. Your kindness is greatly appreciated.

Maria Catezone

In the same way it takes a village to raise a child, it takes a community to comfort the grieving. We feel so fortunate that Beth Shalom is that community, a community that served as Jeff's spiritual home and which has now embraced/supported us as well. Thank you for all your words of comfort over these several challenging months, and for the variety of donations on his behalf. Please accept as our token of thanks, our donation to the Bima Fund.

The family of Jeff Smoler

Thank you for thinking of me and my family during this difficult time. I truly appreciate all the warm words of comfort on the loss of my beautiful daughter Marnie. I am truly grateful for all the support and generosity you have shown me. With love,

Sheryl Schneider
